A BATTLE WITH SOME INDIANS.

General Bacon's Men Attacked and a Fierce Fight Is Reported.

NO DETAILS CAN BE SECURED.

One Report Is That General Bacon and His Entire Force Have Been Massacred.

SOME OF HIS MEN KNOWN TO BE DEAD.

As General Bacon Has Not Sent Back Any Word, the Worst Is Feared. Reinforcements Are Going to the Scene.

Walker, Minn., Oct. 6.—A hard fight with the Indians has occurred, and the reports from the scene of the battle on the other side of Leach lake are somewhat conflicting, though all reports agree that as a result there has been considerable shedding of blood and loss of life on both sides. No word has come from the front for several hours, which fact is considered somewhat ominous. The most serious report is that the detachment of troops with General Bacon was massacred, the general himself being among the dead. Three newspaper correspondents, Brill of the St. Paul Pioneer Press, Heaton of the Minneapolis Tribune and Knappen of the Minneapolis Times are known to have been in the fight, and one report is that they were killed, while another says they are prisoners in the hands of the Indians.

This little town is full of excitement, and as the reports from the other side of the lake come in people become frantic, and efforts were made to get up a force to go to the aid of the troops. Reinforcements are coming on a special train from Brainard. However, additional soldiers are more needed and the feeling is general that they cannot come too soon.

The fight occurred 30 miles from Walker on a point jutting out into the lake near Bear island. The soldiers, 100 strong, under command of General Bacon and Major Wilkinson were landed with considerable difficulty, a gale of wind having stirred up a lively sea. Scouts were hustled through the bush in every direction, and for three hours no trace of the Indians could be found. Every precaution against ambush has been taken. Finally, at about 11 o'clock the soldiers were drawn up in an open space near the shore of the lake, and preparations were about to begin for dinner. The soldiers were still in line, though coffee making had commenced. Suddenly a shot was fired from the house of Bog-Ah-Mah-Ge-Shig, the Indian who has been the head and center of this whole difficulty. Ex-Marshall Ed Harris, a Walker half breed, was struck, his arm being broken. This shot seemed to be a signal, for immediately shots came from every direction, and three men dropped and were carried to the rear. The soldiers, who were veterans, not alone of the Santiago battle, but of many an Indian skirmish, knew what to do, and at the first shot all found shelter and awaited another volley to tell them where to shoot. Gen. Bacon and Major Wilkinson steadied their men with encouraging words, and with a second volley, the Indians attempted to rush on the soldiers. The rattling volley from the regulars that met the oncoming reds stopped the rush and drove back the Indians, although half a dozen of them were dropped by the soldiers' fire. The fire from the pillagers then became more scattering, and the soldiers made a charge.

An Indian who arrived from Bear island late last night stated that eight men out of uniform had been killed, but he could not tell how many soldiers had been shot. No direct word has come from either of the newspaper correspondents who were with the troops or from the soldiers. This is looked on as additional cause for apprehension, as it is believed that General Bacon would have sent back some official communication had it been possible to do so. No word whatever has come from him. Neither has it been possible to confirm the report that the entire detachment has been wiped out.

Threatened With Starvation.

Seattle, Wash., Oct. 6.—Hundreds of Indians of the Tana, Mantasta and Copper tribes are reported as threatened with starvation. The natives depend on the salmon run on Copper river for their winter supply of food. This year the salmon did not come, for what reason the Indians did not know, but which the whites claim is owing to the cannery companies on the lower river putting in massive fish traps.

Succeeds Commodore Schley.

Washington, Oct. 6.—Captain Francis J. Higginson, who commanded the battleship Massachusetts at Santiago and on the expedition to Porto Rico, has been made chairman of the lighthouse board. This is the place formerly held by Commodore Schley. It is considered one of the choice assignments of the navy.

A Race to Help America.

Madrid, Oct. 6.—The impartial declares that the naval demonstrations which are beginning in Chinese waters is not only a menace to France and Russia, but implies an Anglo-American understanding to prevent the powers from opposing American designs in the Philippine islands. This fact, the impartial adds, will influence the Paris deliberations.
